Schweizerische naturforschende Gesellschaft.

Founded 1815 as Société helvétique des sciences naturelles; this name continues to be the official form in French. The original name in German was Allgemeine schweizerische Gesellschaft für die gesammten naturwissenschaften, but this was later shortened, by common usage, to Schweizerische naturforschende Gesellschaft. The Italian form of name is Società elvetica delle scienze naturali; the Romansch form, Società elvetica per las ciencias naturals.

1901- (sér. 3, t. 4-) Bulletin des séances de la Société des sciences de Nancy, ancienne Société des sciences naturelles de Strasbourg, fondée en 1828.

In 1900 the society agreed to publish in its Bulletin a résumé of the communications made to the Réunion biologique de Nancy (affiliated with it in that year). A change was made, therefore, in the title of the Bulletin, beginning with the 34 series (see "Title varies" note) cf. Bulletin, sér. 3, t. 1, p. 7. In 1901 the Réunion biologique severed its connection with the society, and the Bulletin was continued according to the previous method of publication. cf. sér. 3, t. 4, p. xii.

There are slight variations in the subtitles of the earlier volumes.
Reports for 1848-55 are numbered 34-40; other reports are unnumbered.
The first report was submitted to Congress in 1847. Annual reports were printed in pamphlet form up to 1853, but in the volume for that year the essential portion of the contents of the preceding seven reports was reprinted and this is now considered as the first of a set of Smithsonian reports. (cf. Annual report, 1886, pt. 1, p. 487).
Fourth report includes "Appendix ... report on the public libraries of the United States of America, January 1, 1850. By Charles C. Jewett."
Beginning with 1884, the reports are published in two annual volumes, one being the report of the Smithsonian institution, the other the report of the U. S. National museum. For the latter see U. S. National museum. Annual report.

Monthly, forming 2 vols. a year.
The society organized the "Congreso científico latino americano" held in Buenos Aires in 1898, and the "Congreso científico internacional americano" held in the same city in 1910; the results of these congresses (organization, membership, etc., and some of the papers) were published in the Anales, v. 45, 1898, and v. 69-70, 1910.
Biographies and bibliographies of members are included in many of the volumes. Lists of members are usually given on covers of the numbers.
